Penn State's Center for Global Studies will award prizes of up to $2,000 to support the professional development of Liberal Arts ABD doctoral students and early career faculty on a tenure track (having received a doctoral degree no earlier than 2008) through international research and travel.

Requirements

To be eligible, applicants must be Liberal Arts ABD Ph.D. candidates or early career faculty members at Penn State (University Park) who want to advance their research through travel outside of the United States.

Application

Eligible applicants must submit the following materials via email to cgsinfo@psu.edu:

- Cover page with applicant's name, professorial rank and academic title, contact information (including campus address), project title, and total grant amount requested
- A 2-3 page description of the project, including:
 - o Significance of the project, especially its relevance to global studies
 - o Outcome: i.e. article, book (specify publication venue, known or anticipated), exhibition (specify exhibition venue), performance (specify performance venue), etc.
 - o Timetable for project's completion
- Itemized budget describing specifically how grant funds will be used; applicants should also note other sources from which funding has been received or solicited (include amounts)
- Curriculum vitae of relevant work (not to exceed four pages)
- A confidential statement of support from an advisor (for ABDs), Department Head, or Dean

Deadline

All application materials must be received electronically by Wednesday, April 2, 2014 for projects to be completed in 2014. Any documents received after that date and/ or incomplete submissions will not be reviewed.

Recipients of this award will be required to participate in future CGS programming. This may be in the form of presenting at a CGS-sponsored workshop, taking part in a CGS-sponsored outreach project, etc.
