

PANEL DISCUSSION

Outside the Scientific Discourse, Yet One with Nature: The culture, people, and climate of Pacific Island Atolls

Participants examine climate change and its effects from scientific, legal, ethical, musical, and human perspectives.

*Free and open to the public.
Refreshments will be served.*

7 p.m. Monday, November 7

Lewis Katz Building Auditorium
Penn State University Park

Moderator: William Easterling, dean,
Penn State College of Earth and Mineral Sciences

The panel includes Mikaele Maiava, Water is Rising artist from Tokelau, and Penn State faculty members Donald A. Brown, associate professor of environmental ethics, science, and law; Anne C. Clements, associate professor of music; Jamison E. Colburn, professor of environmental law and policy.

Support provided by Penn State's School of International Affairs, Center for Global Studies, and University Libraries. Support also provided by United Nations Association of Centre County and Centre County Council of Organizations (Altrusa International of Centre County, American Association of University Women, Centre County UNA-USA, Friends Meeting, Global Connections, Hadassah, Harris Township Lions Club, League of Women Voters of Centre County, Soroptimist International of Centre County, St. Paul's United Methodist Women, State College Area Family YMCA, State College Lions Club, State College Evening Rotary Club, State College Downtown Rotary Club, State College Presbyterian Church's Mission Ministry Unit, Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Centre County, and University Baptist and Brethren Church).

www.cpa.psu.edu

BE SURE TO SEE!

Time & Tide

An award-winning documentary about the island nation Tuvalu

2 p.m. Sunday, November 6

State Theatre • Downtown State College

Water is Rising

Music and Dance of Pacific Island Atolls

Water is Rising brings together thirty-six music and dance artists from the tiny Pacific island nations Kiribati, Tokelau, and Tuvalu to celebrate the cultures of coral atolls at risk of being submerged by rising sea levels.

AD)))

7:30 p.m. Tuesday, November 8

Eisenhower Auditorium
Penn State University Park

sponsors

Sandra Zaremba and Richard Brown

The presentation of Water is Rising was made possible by the MetLife Community Connections Fund of the New England Foundation of the Arts' National Dance Project. Major support for NDP is also provided by the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation with additional support from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and the Boeing Company Charitable Trust.

Penn State encourages qualified persons with disabilities to participate in its programs and activities. If you anticipate needing any type of accommodation or have any questions about physical access provided, please contact the Arts Ticket Center at 814-863-0255 in advance of your participation or visit.

This publication is available in alternative media on request.

Penn State is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity, and the diversity of its workforce. U.Ed. ARC 12-52

PENNSTATE

College of Arts and Architecture